LIQUOR LICENSES ARE DISCUSSED

Restaurants and Drug Stores Represented.

Plea of the Saloen Keepers for an Equal Tax on All Heard.

It Is Finally Decided to Let the Various Interests Come to an Understanding.

After considerable discussion, which the saloonmen, druggists and restaurant keepers all took a part, the question of discrimination in the retail dealers' liquor licenses under the present ordinances was laid over to come up agah). Nothing came of the hearing before the license and municipal laws committees last night further than that a committee from each of the interested associations will meet and come to some agreement as to the amendment of the ordinance.

The side of the pestaurant keepers was first set forth by Judge O. W. Powers, who argued that inasmuch as the saloons necessitated the employment of a larger police force than would otherwise be necessary, it was no more than right that the proprietors should pay a larger license than restaurant keepers. In the nature of things, he said, there must be a discrimination between sa-loons and drug-stores and restaur-ants. The one, he repeated, was in a business dealing exclusively in intoxi-cating liquors, while the sale of liquor was merely incident to the restaurant business.

Plea of Druggists.

Clem Schramm was the next to take the floor, in behalf of the druggists. He started out by saying that he regretted the fact that the pledge given by the druggists to live up to the ordinance at the time of its passage had not been lived up to, but attributed this more to the city officials than anyone else. It the city officials than anyone else. It was necessary, he said, for druggists to take out a $400 license to fill prescriptions, under the present ordinance, but that they cannot afford to pay the license of $1200 paid by saloonkeepers.

The saloonkeepers were represented by Attorney A. J. Weber. He started out with the statement that whisky bought in a drug-store or restaurant has the same effect upon the purchaser.

same effect upon the purchaser as whisky bought in a saloon and that all being on the same basis, they should all pay the same license. Mr Weber stated that the statutes, by im-plication at least, provided that cities should impose but two kinds of licenses, wholesale and retail. In his opinion the city had no right, legally or morally, to divide the retail dealers into two classes. Saloonkeepers, he main-tained, paid for a monopoly of the bus-iness and were entitled to it. The present ordinance, he said, made saloons out of some of the restaurants and saloons out of some of the drug-stores.

Indulge in Dialogue.

Mr. Morgan of the Vienna cafe and Mr. Morgan of the vienna care and M. E. Mulvey indulged in a little dis-logue, in which the former admitted that drinks were sold in his restaurant by the package or bottles containing but one drink. These, however, he were original and were scaled with the were original and were scaled with the Government stamp.

"Well, that is just what we object to," exclaimed Mr. Mulvey. "Do you sell to women after 7 o'clock in the eventure?"

We have made no distinction," answered Mr. Morgan.

"Do you sell on Sunday?" was the

Not whisky; we have sold beer and ines on Sunday."

Mr. Morgan explained that women often desired a drink of beer or a little "nip" even, as he termed it, and that they felt disinclined to enter a saloon. Mr. Mulvey, however, did not agree with him that they must go into restaurants to quench their thirst, saying that women often entered his saloon during the day-time and that he had quite a large women's trade. He re-ferred to selling liquor by the bottle and not by the drink.

Other Arguments Advanced.

Charles T. Murphy, a saloon proprie-tor, said that Sait Lake was the only place he had ever seen where women could get cocktails and other drinks in restaurants and not in saloons.

George Mueller, proprietor of the Royal stated that he merely sold liquor to accommodate certain of his custom-ers and that he did not make enough to pay his license. He said it was no fault of the restaurants because people preferred to get their liquor there instead of in saloons and said that as the people become more educated they prefer to slt down to drink rather than to stand up to a bar and get drunk.

After all had had their say, it was decided to let the different factions get together and come to some understand ing on exactly what they wanted in the sent a report to the committees of the Council.

Petitions Are Heard.

WOMAN IS ROBBED.

Claims That Valuable Diamonds Are Taken

As a conclusion to a trip to the Warm Springs with five other companions Marie Recaington, an inhabitant of Commercial street, was robbed of two diamond earrings and two stones out of a valuable ring, representing a total loss of over $250. The theft was committed in the *partment house at the corner of Second South and State known as the Holmes block.

The girl who was robbed made com-plaint to the pt-lice yesterday morning and said that she went to sleep in a room in the Holmes block early in the room in the Holmes block early in the morning. A couple of hours afterward she was awaker ed by the driver, who she was awakered by the driver, who demanded payment for having driven them to the Springs. She refused, referring him to the man she was with, whereupon he attacked her, striking her heavily on the face. In this he got the worst of it, as she was able to take her own part and he still bears the marks on his face. She then discovered that she had lost her earrings, and while hunting for them found that and while hunting for them found that the stones had also been pried out of her ring. All the attention of the po-lice is being directed to recovering the stones, which were of the first water.

They will be heard on the charge of burglary today in Judge Diehl's court. They both admitted having traveled here from St. Louis on a freight train. Presuming on the charity of the landlady at the roominghouse they told her that they only had 40 cents. Taking pity on them she gave them a room. But yesterday morning they had disappeared, as had several pieces of property, as enumerated above. Some time in the forencon Po-liceman Sullivan picked them up on the description furnished and took them to the station. The coupons were found on one of them and between them they had $7 in cash. On being "sweated" they told where the watch was and it will be produced in court against them as evidence this afternoon.

DEPUTY AUDITOR RESIGNS PLACE

Will Be Effective on Fifteenth.

Belief That C. B. Felt Desires to Appoint His Daughter.

Councilmen May Object, and an Interesting Struggle May Be the Result

There seems to be something behind the resignation of William D. Bowring as deputy city auditor, which was tenlered by him to City Auditor C. B. Felt yesterday. The impression is general among the Councilmen that the resignation has been forced upon the deputy by Mr. Felt with the object in view of appointing his daughter, Miss Bessie Felt, to the position.

Both Mr. Bowring and City Auditor Felt deny that there has been any trouble. Mr. Felt, when seen yesterday, said that he had not let Mr. Bowring out, that he gave good satisfaction and that there was no trouble that he knew of. Mr. Bowring was seen just before submitting his written resignation to the Auditor. He was noncem mittal in his remarks, but did not state definitely that there had been no trouble. He said that his resignation was made for the purpose of taking a general agency for an insurance company, with which he has been associated before

His Duties Changed.

The fact, however, that he is not at-tending to the same duties in the office as has been his custom heretofore together with another fact in connec-tion with his resignation, would indi-cate very strongly that there has been trouble between the two men. It understood that Mr. Bowring first drev up his resignation to take effect or July 31; the resignation, however, which he afterward prepared, is to be effective after August 15. This would indicate that the City Auditor had in-tended to dispense with his deputy's services on the first of the present month and that the deputy had insisted on drawing his pay for the month of August. It is, therefore, believed that they got together and compromised on August 15.

May Appoint Daughter. May Appoint Daughter.

The opinion is general among the Councilmen that Mr. Felt wants his daughter in the position, and the Councilmen, irrespective of their political beliefs disfavor any such plan. The position pays $100 a month and the Councilmen believe that there are many worthy men in the city that are more entitled to the place than a daughter of the City Auditor. While many of the Councilmen believe that Mr. Felt contemplates appointing his daughter to the position this is not daughter to the position this is not known to be a fact. There will be a warm time in the Council if City Auditor Felt submits the name of his daughter as the successor of Mr. Bow

TO EXAMINE AN EXPERIMENT DRY FARM

Lewis A. Merrill Has a Consultation With Board of Horticulture.

Lewis A. Merrill, agronomist at the Utah Experiment station and editor of the Descret Farmer, stopped off in Salt Lake yesterday en route to Sevier county, where he goes to examine the experiment dry farm, and spent the afternoon consulting with the State Board of Horticulture which is now holding its annual session in this city.

"The experimental farms are in excellent condition and the prospects are bright," said Mr. Merrill. "By co-operating with the Irrigation Sureau of the Department of Agriculture, which is under the direction of Prof. Elwood Mead, during the past year we have achieved highly satisfactory results. We expended all our funds, but as the Irrigation department. Irrigation department gave us an ad-ditional $3000 we were able to carry out our work on a more elaborate plan with corresponding advantages in results. During the past year we have been experimenting to discover how much water various crops require and when and by what method this water may be most advantageously applied. "Our late Legislature established six dry farms and threshing is now in pro-dry farms and threshing is now in progress on two of these. The yields are most encouraging and excel our fondest expectations. The wheat yield averages thirty-five and forty bushels to the acre and that compares favorably with the product of irrigated soil.

"During the past menth and in fact

"During the past month and in fact all spring farmers have been visiting our experiment station and they are jubilant over the result. We have explained to them the scientific method and positively demonstrated that the hit and miss method does not pay. As a result of our success the State will sell thousands of acres of desert land this fall. One company of Utah men is incorporating today and they have assured me that they will purchase at least 4000 acres of desert soil.

This achievement gives Utah the opportunity of becoming one of the greatest agricultural States in the whole country. It means that all these whole country. It means that all these desert lands, hitherto considered valueless, will become great wheat producing farms. It means that we have gone one step further in solving the irrigation problem in Utah. In the near future we can convert all our wheat and careal farms into great or any convert all our wheat and cereal farms into great orhards, which require very little wa Strange Terror of Adolf Beutler Leads to Arrest.

Pitiful was the terror evidently felt by Adolf Beutler of the locomotive at the Rio Grande depot last night. He was so afraid of the train and the engine in particular, showing all the signs of having lost his mind, that Tom Miller took him up to the county jail for the night.

Beutler has been herding sheep in Montana and it is thought that the long periods of solitude have turned his brain, as has been the case with many other men. His home is in Richfield, and when he was found last hight he had a ticket for that town in his pocket as well as nearly $70 in cash. He was taken to the county jail where he was allowed to sit down for a few minutes, and seemed to have ecovered his equilibrium, but when they made a motion to give him back his money and the ticket he broke out afresh: "Oh! you aren't going to let me be ground to pieces by that awful engine, are you? Oh! dear! Don't let that train come near me." At this the Sheriff gave orders that he be kept in the padded cell for the night, and he finally seemed to rest He will be examined today Removal Notice.

BESSIE TUFTS'S MOTHER HERE

She May Seek Papers of Guardianship.

Does Not Desire That Step-Mother Shall Have Custedy of Child.

Would Prefer That a Sister, Who Has Applied, Be Appointed Guardian.

Still another claimant for the guardianship of the person and property of little Bessle C. Tufts has appeared in the field, this one being no other than mother. The case is altogether a most interesting one and one that is unique in the history of the District court

As was stated in The Tribune yesterday, Bessie Tufts was left a fortune of $7000 by her father, Don C. Tufts, who died on May 19. Since then the girl has been living with her stepmother, who has asked to be appointed guardian of the child and her property.

Sister Files Petition.

Another petition asking for papers of cuardianship has been filed by Mrs. Leona Tufts Burnett, a sister of Bessie Bessie lacks less than two months of being 14 years old and until she has attained that age she can have no say in the naming of her guardian. Mrs. Teeters when seen yesterday said she preferred that her daughter, Mrs. Burnett, be appointed guardian and that the child live with her. Mrs Teeters says that she contemplates go ing to St. Louis, but that if she does not go she will file a petition herself asking for the care of Bessie.

Why She Did Not Contest. Mrs. Teeters stated further that she lost control of her daughter nine years ago, when Don C. Tufts secured a divorce from her. She said she realized at the time that Mr. Tufts would spend every cent he had in trying to get the custody of their children, one of whom has since died, and that rather than see the money squandered in court she did not defend the action. Mr. Turis afterward married Mrs. Reynolds, who has cared for Bessle since that time. Since the death of Mr. Tufts Mrs. Rcyolds married her present husband. Mrs. Geneva Teeters, who lives at No 8 Rose street, is a twin child of Thomas F. Morton, deceased, and she claims to be the first white girl born in Utah

His assailant is said to have been an Italian by the name of Tulia, who is alleged to have struck his victim down with a pick handle and then stabbed him with a stiletto. It was first stated that Dechery was struck in the groin with a pick. The man is said to be in a dangerous condition and will likely be crippled for life.
